in the foreground many different species of wildlife wander slowly in and out at most times of day and night to satisfy their thirst at the waterhole. Further away the dramatic vista of the Otavi mountain range stretches as far as the eye can see.

Here you will experience at close quarters the game that roams wild and free throughout our land and enjoy the full extent of Namibian hospitality while creating enduring Namibian friendships.

You can take in the amazing sights and sounds of the African night around a blazing camp-fire and on a night-time game drive. Ohange invites you to experience the freedom of this vibrant land and let your senses be stimulated by breathtaking beauty that will send your spirits soaring and set your heart free.

Above all, you will leave Ohange reluctantly, but at ease with the world and saturated with memories never to be forgotten.

*The name Ohange is derived from the Herero word 'peace'. What could be more appropriate for this Lodge? ## ACTIVITIES

Our aim at Ohange is to enjoy the wildlife as it was intended - naturally. To entice you away from the cool of the pool or the shade of the Lodge verandah, we organise exhilarating morning nature walks and afternoon game-viewing drives in search of Eland, Damara Dik-dik, Giraffe, Burchell's Zebra, Hartmann's Mountain Zebra, Waterbuck, Impala, Black Wildebeest, Kudu, Oryx, Cheetah and many more . . .

If you prefer a more leisurely approach, you are invited to take a guided hike or horse-ride to explore the area - an ideal way to discover some of the extraordinarily abundant bird-life. Or the more adventurous could go out on foot without a guide.

After dusk we venture out to search for the treasures of the night - Bushbabies (or nagapies meaning 'little night monkeys'), Porcupines, Genet, Owls and Nightjars. With luck we might even encounter a free-roaming Leopard!

Other local points of interest: the Ghaub Caves, Lake Otjikoto, Etosha National Park and Hoba Meteorite.
