Statement Regarding Future Air Travel

In order to support our clients with existing ticket issues these last seven months and to service an increasing overload of current reservations, Trek is pausing any new air reservations for our trips. We will of course continue to support all clients who have existing air travel with us and remain available to offer advice and suggested air travel going forward as we have always done.

Once we have satisfied the needs of existing clients and reservations, we will re-address this policy in the future. For now, we regret any inconvenience this may cause and look forward to servicing you in the many other areas of expertise Trek provides.

Sincerely,

Milton Hanburry
President Trek Safaris
