

Nested in a remote valley at the heart of the most exciting African wilderness 2,000 metres above sea level, Saruni is a deluxe, intimate design lodge, set in a conservation area bordering the Masai Mara National Reserve in Kenya.

A home away from home for those who require a highly personalised experience, we are open year round and accommodate 12 guests in six uniquely styled cottages. Owner-hosted, Saruni offers a new concept of safari - the thrill of an adventure lived with maasai warriors, coupled with comfort and high standards of service and cuisine.

Discover the beauty and skills of the maasai people. Based on a close partnership with the local community and built to ecological standards, Saruni entwines old traditions of classic safaris and modern technology.

Freedom and safety, adventure and contemplation - our mountains on the western edge of the Mara are the final destination of the annual great migration between July and October, where millions of animals add to the already existing resident herds.

The cottages are furnished with flushing eco-toilets alongside beautifully crafted basins and showers with running hot and cold water. Colonial antiques, Persian carpets and African art decorate the rooms with double and twin beds. The verandah is comfortably equipped with a sunbed and hammock where one can look out into the plains and enjoy the incredible shows put on by elephants, waterbuck, buffalo and rare bird species.

After a full day exploring the African wild, or enjoying the tranquility of Saruni's library set in a quiet corner in front of a water hole where animals visit, Kuro House invites you to bitings and drinks around the fireplace as you take in the calls of the nocturnal animals.

Gourmet cuisine follows at the main table or in the privacy of your cottage.

Saruni offers you the wonders of Masai Mara aboard special open Land Rovers or by foot walking with professional guides and maasai trackers. You can explore secret plains, mountains and rivers by enjoying game drives, game walks, bird watching, hiking, cultural visits to the maasai villages, experiencing breathtaking sunsets at sundowner, or enjoying spectacular bush lunches and dinners in the middle of the savannah.

We believe in protecting the environment and the maasai cultural heritage. This is Mother Earth, how it was created. This is the tree where man was born.

The Maasai Well-Being space is a private treatment cottage hidden in our valley's olive and cedar forest. It has been designed to provide the most serene and relaxing environment where guests are able to enjoy massages and wellness treatments whilst watching bushbuck and elephants roaming through the forest.

The space is run in collaboration with Grand Hotel des Iles Borromees (Stresa, Italy), and its world famous spa - Centro Benessere Stresa. It combines sophisticated methods developed at Centro Benessere Stresa with ancient maasai wisdom, and is performed by highly trained maasai staff.
