

Msambweni House & Private Villas is going green

Msambweni Beach House & Private villas is well aware of the problems facing our global environment today and we are taking some small steps to try and help minimize our impact.

Power saving energy lamps have been used where possible. We have installed timers on all pumps and water heaters. Thanks to these two actions, the electricity consumption has decreased by 30%.

Msambweni Beach House is starting to replace the water heaters with a solar powered system. The current solar heater will remain as a backup.

Msambweni Beach House purchases almost its fruits and fish from the local market which reduces fuel consumption and our own garden is doing well. Almost all fruits are supplied by the local community.

We have put a red mark on the switches that consume more energy: the air conditioner is the only item in the room which consumes a lot of energy, the same as around 30 fans.

Many thanks,

The Msambweni House team.
