Jukani Wildlife Sanctuary

INTRODUCTION

Jukani is one of the greatest experiences with the world's fearsome hunters. Jukani is dedicated to the preservation and well being of carnivores by changing attitudes and minds of people. In this sanctuary you will find carnivores of all shapes and sizes like the mighty Tiger of Asia or the cunning jackal. The main purpose of Jukani is to change people's perception of these animals whether it is fear, hate, indifference, despise or worse the need to humanise (touch, play, cuddle, walk on leash, be photographed with).

There is after all ZERO conservation value in animal touching and the pet, play and pay practice so many attractions promote aggressively is simply and sadly wrong.

The animals at Jukani are all wild - none of them has had their spirits broken and none have been tamed.

Here, there are no high walls dividing neighbours, and people gather in the streets to live a life in communion. We at Emzini Tours will provide you with a glimpse of this reality, offering insight into the areas that people often shy away from.

Knysna Elephant Park

INTRODUCTION

The Knysna Elephant Park (est. 1994) was the first facility in South Africa to house and care for orphaned African elephants. Over the last twenty years, the park has cared for and raised more than forty elephants. These animals include relocated animals, orphaned calves, elephants rescued from culls and ex-circus animals. Some have become part of the resident herd, others have moved onto other reserves and facilities in the Western and Eastern Cape, depending on their personalities, bonds with other animals and welfare needs.

The present KEP herd numbers ten – the largest domesticated matriarchal herd in the country. Our style of management offers guests the opportunity to get up close and personal with our elephants, on elephant terms. Responsible and educational interactions allow guests to appreciate the awe-inspiring presence of these animals, but still give the elephants the space and freedom to choose where they want to move, what they want to eat and who they want to interact with. There are no fences to spoil the close encounter and our environment encourages elephants to exhibit natural behaviours.

Hiking - Giant Kingfisher Trail

INTRODUCTION

The popular Giant Kingfisher Trail leads to a stunning little waterfall that is fabulous for a swim and picnic. A little effort is required at the start but the going gets easier on this well-maintained SANParks trail that features an extensive boardwalk. At strategic places along the route built-in benches have been provided so there are opportunities for hikers to stop and rest or to quietly absorb and enjoy the sights and sounds around them. As you approach the waterfall the boardwalk starts to climb quite steeply and then you descend quickly onto a rocky area through which waterfalls gush and some sizable pools form that are ideal for swimming. Don't be misled by the dark colour of it. There is nothing wrong – it is merely coloured by the forest and fynbos vegetation through which it passes.

Let's get up close and personal with these majestic giants that inhabit our vast and pristine Indian Ocean. These migratory mammals, Southern Right and Humpback whales, grace us with their presence from June to November annually showing off their acrobatic skills while nurturing their young.

Approaching a whale requires incredible skill and understanding of the behavior of these wild creatures. Our skippers are well aware of the strict guidelines set in place by the permit and respect that they are in the whale's domain.
