

SUMAQ

MACHU PICCHU HOTEL

Where nature whispers in your ear

Sumaq is located at the foot of the sanctuary of Machu Picchu, in a small town of the same name, where the Andes meet the jungle. From the hotel balconies, you can see a blanket of green mountains, the path drawn by the Vilcanota River, and a magical mist that envelops the Inca landscape.

Culinary Activity Pachamanca

Pachamanca means "Pot of the Earth" in English; it is an ancient dish of Andean origin, considered part of the Cultural Heritage of the Nation, and one of the most representative of Peruvian gastronomy.

CAPACITY
min: 2 people

DURATION
3 hours

In addition to the Pachamanca, our visitors will be able to taste the typical drink of Cusco, since the time of the Incas, La Chicha or "aswa" in Quechua, is a fermented drink that was offered in ceremonial events and that today continues to be offered in Cusco houses.

Dish from the Sumaq style Pachamanca, decorated with fresh huacatay leaves.

Ceviche and Pisco Sour Demonstration

At Sumaq Machu Picchu Hotel, guests will learn how to prepare Sumaq style trout ceviche, as well as our emblematic cocktail, led by our gastronomy experts.

CAPACITY
min: 2 people

DURATION
45 minutes

Ancestral wisdom Preserved in the Andes for generations

Cusco is one of the places on the planet with many people dedicated to studying the wisdom of Pachamama, or Mother Earth. Our guests enjoy unique experiences at the hand of authentic shamans. We practice focused rituals in channeling energy, in gratitude, and asking protection from the Apus (the name given to the higher spirits of the protector mountains).

Offering to the Earth, or Pachamama Ritual

The ritual consists of a ceremony of gratitude to the gods of nature, offering the Earth different ingredients such as coca leaves, sweets, cereals, and more.

The shaman invokes the gods of the Andean cosmology, and the guests make their requests to Mother Earth.

CAPACITY
min: 1 people

DURATION
1 hour

Andean wedding “Arac Masin”

The Andean wedding, an ancestral ritual that unites the couple for life in body, mind, and spirit. This traditional ceremony, performed in a mystical setting, forms an unbreakable bond between the couple and the elements of nature.

Go into the forest and get lost among the riches of nature

Walk, and discover plants and flowers with shapes and colors never before seen. Follow the path and suddenly find a waterfall.

Close your eyes and listen to what the forest has to tell us. That's what this adventure is about. Disconnect from the routine of the city to reconnect with the planet. The surroundings of Sumaq are perfect for travelers who appreciate nature.

Walks in Nature

The fascinating biodiversity of Machu Picchu promises a range of attractive and enigmatic places full of energy and adventure.

Sumaq Kids Experiences

At Sumaq Machu Picchu Hotel, we have designed entertaining experiences for the younger explorers. Among them, they can choose to be a hiker in the sanctuary of Machu Picchu or become a mini hotel chef for a day.

Adventures with Allco in Machu Picchu

We know that traveling with children is a wonderful adventure; thanks to this tour, the youngest ones learn about the Inca culture and share a unique experience with their parents, exploring the wonders of the Inca citadel together.
