

QUINTESSENTIALLY OKAVANGO DELTA, THIS ISLAND CAMP EMBODIES THE ESSENCE OF AN ICONIC DELTA SAFARI EXPERIENCE.

WHERE IS NORTH ISLAND OKAVANGO

18°54'55.87"S and 22°36'49.84"E

As the name denotes, the camp is found on an island (known locally as Xuxuga) surrounded by the diverse habitats of this area – seasonal floodplains, permanent waterways, woodland and open savannah. Being at the upstream end of the Okavango Delta, this area is the first to get the annual floodwaters, opening up water-based viewing activities.

WHEN IS A GOOD TIME TO GO

North Island is open all year round and offers a combination of land, water and air experiences - game drives, boating, mokoro and scenic helicopter flights.

Dry season: April – October

Green season: November – March

Please see our rates sheet for detailed information on seasons & pricing.

HOW DO I GET THERE

Direct flights from Cape Town and Johannesburg to Maun, followed by a light aircraft transfer to Kadizora airstrip for a short onward transfer to camp.

WHERE WILL I STAY

There are only 3 spacious tents (with a fourth coming in March 2024), each resting on raised wooden decks under the shady boughs of wild ebony trees, with stunning views of the lagoon. Each offers 140 square metres of total floor space (including the deck, outside shower and pool), with 80 square metres of interior floor space. Styled by bold shapes, textures and contemporary inspired African design, here you'll enjoy exceptional comfort and luxury. Complete with en-suite bathrooms, indoor and outdoor showers, mini-bar, ceiling-fan, private veranda and pool. Each bed also comes with an 'over-the-bed' cooling system for sleeping comfort. The camp is shaded by a congregation of enormous 30-50 foot trees. To have so many big trees so tightly packed along the water's edge is a very rare occurrence in the Delta where elephant activity usually impacts significantly on their growth.
