BIRDING

The gorge itself is home to many incredible birds such as the Black Eagle and the Pel's fishing Owl. This stretch of the river has many islands with reedbeds, dense over-hanging trees and meandering, narrow channels that boast many different bird species.

A birder's paradise, with the gorge on one side and the open flood plain on the other!

WALKING

Experiencing the lower Zambezi's wilderness areas is integral to most of our trips, and there's no better way than on foot. Walking safaris in Africa are completely different from game drives – being on foot brings about a totally new way of understanding your surroundings.
