Welcome to Namibia

At Gondwana Collection Namibia we look forward to welcoming you to our beautiful country, where the sun and our hospitality warm your heart and social distancing appears naturally in the wide open landscapes.

Since August 2022, travellers to Namibia do not have to present any proof of vaccination or a negative PCR test on arrival anymore. However, requirements may vary across various airlines and countries. We strongly advise you to seek advice from both the airlines and destination countries to avoid any losses or unforeseen hindrances to your travel itineraries.

Safe Travels in Namibia

What do you need for your vacation in Namibia?

Since the end of August 2022, travellers to Namibia do not have to present any proof of vaccination or a negative PCR test anymore on arrival. All Covid-19 related requirements have been removed in view of the favourable epidemiological situation in Namibia.

Feel at Home at our Lodges

We greet you with a warm smile and consider your health and safety a top priority.

We recommend that our guests use the provided hand sanitiser; hand washing facilities are also available.

We offer communal dining in the restaurant; social distancing is taken into consideration by ensuring space between tables.

Each room will undergo a deep clean between guests checking out and next guests checking in.

Our personnel have been educated on the improved Standard Operating Procedures, first aid and facts about Covid-19. There is a dedicated health coordinator at each property.

Carefree travel with reliable partners

Top service in uncertain times

In the unlikely event of falling ill in Namibia; Gondwana Collection Namibia in partnership with OSH-Med International will provide a full medical support package. The costs for these services must be covered by the guests or their insurance. This offer also applies to clients, who hired a Namibia2Go rental vehicle to travel Namibia.
