Costa Rica

Costa Rica is located in Central America, with Nicaragua to the north and Panama to the south. Costa Rica is relatively small (19,700 square miles -51,100 sq. km), commonly compared to the state of West Virginia or Denmark and with a population of approximately 5 million people.

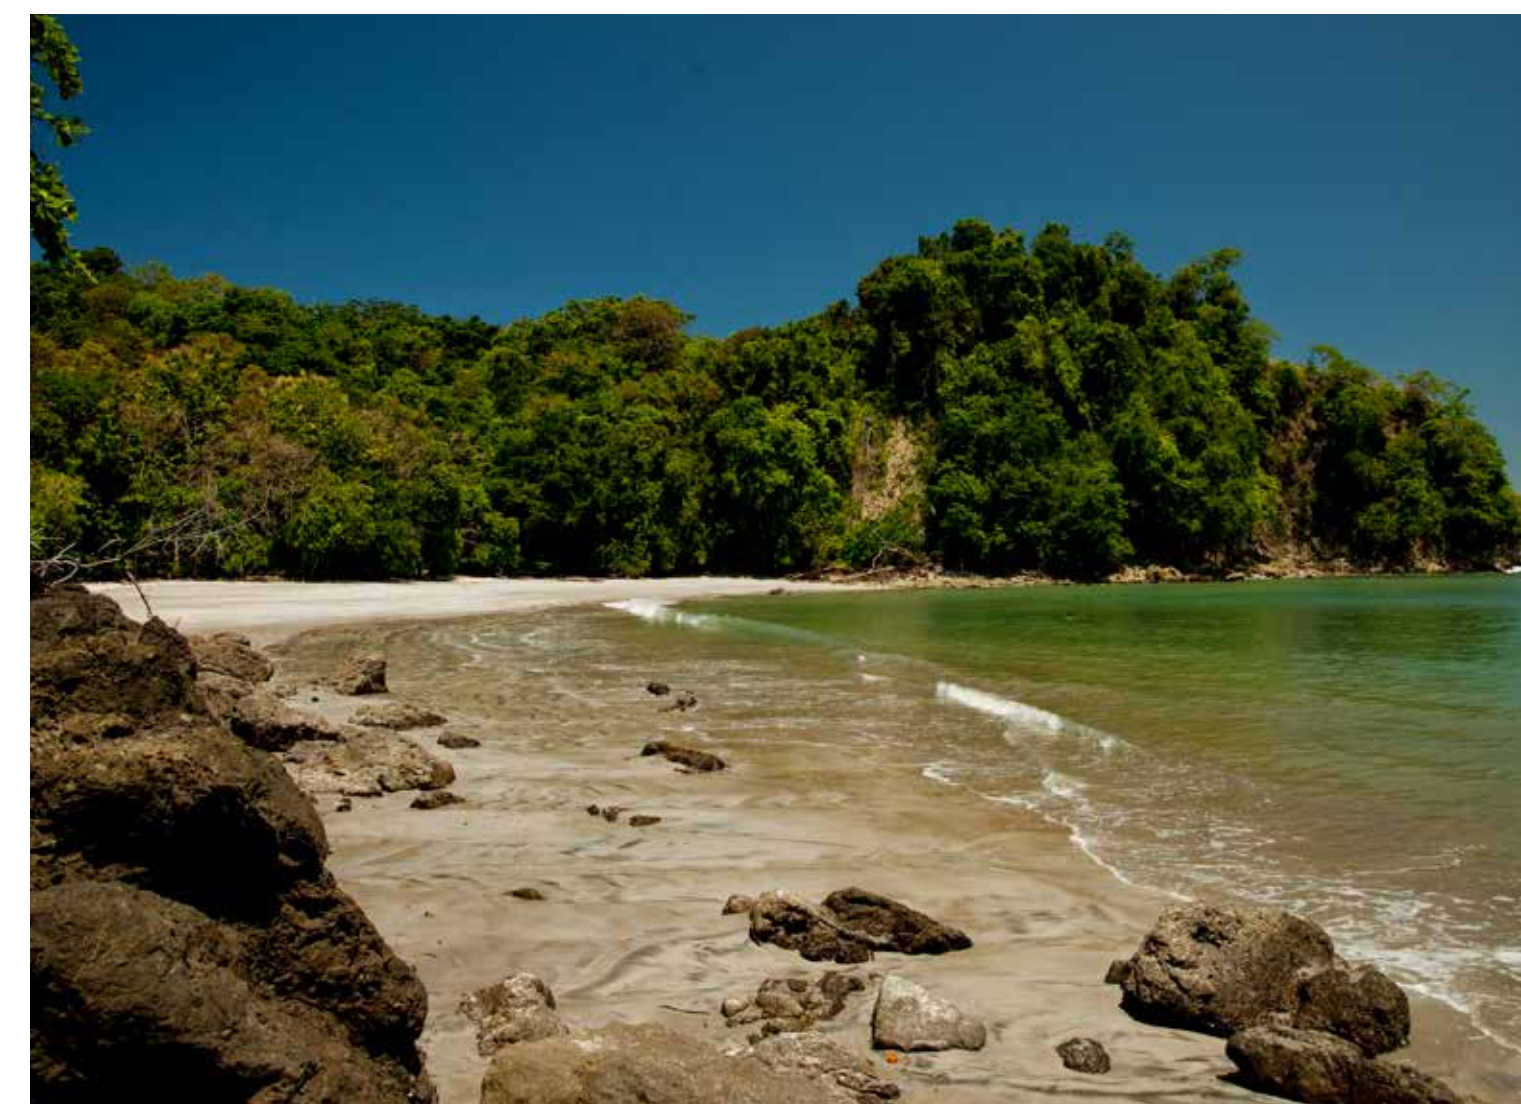

In Costa Rica there are many microclimates, the highlands are cold, the cloud forests misty and cool, San José (the capital) and the Central Valley get an “eternal spring” and both the Pacific and Caribbean coasts enjoy tropical warm days.

Parador Resort & Spa 130 room and suite eco-luxury resort is located on the Central Pacific coastline of Costa Rica, in Manuel Antonio on Punta Quepos. The property is easily accessible from San José by air or road. A 20-minute domestic flight is most convenient, but most guests enjoy the 2 and half hour scenic mountain and coastal drive.

Biesanz Beach

Just a few minutes walk from our property.

Manuel Antonio National Park

This beautiful national park is the smallest park in Costa Rica but one of the most beautiful ones. The park is mostly known for its beautiful beaches and wildlife. In the park there is a lot of wildlife to be seen: Squirrel monkeys, white-faced monkeys, sloths, iguanas, crabs, toucans, bats, birds and golden orb spiders.

Resort Overview

Parador resort spreads out over twelve acres of lush tropical forests teeming with flora and fauna and boasts 360-degree panoramic views of the Pacific Ocean. The resort is Secluded from the main strip yet a short drive from Manuel Antonio beaches, marina Pez Vela (famous for World sportfishing), downtown Quepos and the local airstrip...while Biesanz beach is only a short walk down the hill.

As a multiple World Travel Awards recipient and elite certificate in sustainable tourism, Parador is distinguished by its commitment to sustainability, world-class amenities, European-inspired ambience and Costa Rican “Pura Vida” hospitality.

Our ideological “We Share” program, community outreach and education are but some of the principles and initiatives that guide our business and conscience.
