

Getting to Sacha

From Quito, Ecuador's capital city, a 30-minute flight takes you over the Andes Mountains and down over 8500 feet (2600 meters) into the Amazon Region. The flight destination is the port town of Puerto Francisco de Orellana, locally known as Coca, where you will be met by a bilingual guide and taken to a private dock. Here we will pause for a snack and to use the restrooms before boarding our covered motorized canoe for a 2-hour, 50-mile (80-kilometer) trip down the sediment-rich waters of the Napo, the largest river in Ecuadorian Amazonia.

Upon arrival to Sacha, a 30-minute walk on a raised boardwalk will lead you to Pilchicocha Lagoon. Here, native paddlers will await you with dugout canoes to carry you across the lake to your final destination.

- ①  Quito – Coca: 30 min flight
- ②  Coca Airport – Sacha's Office / Port: 10 min
- ③  Coca's Port – Sacha's Reserve Port: 2 h
- ④  Sacha's Reserve Port – Pilchicocha Lake Port: 30 min
- ⑤  Pilchicocha Lake Port – Sacha Lodge: 15 min

ARRIVAL DAY  Arrive by lunch

DEPARTURE DAY  Leave after breakfast

IMPORTANT:

- Flights depart from Quito only
- Commercial airlines: LAN & Aeroregional
- Ticket fare: $275 (subject to change)
- Luggage restriction: 20 kilos (44 pounds) per passenger
- Pick up point: Coca Airport upon arrival

