— PRIVATE GAME RESERVE —

Conserving a Vanishing Way of Life

Pride of the Eastern Cape

Situated a mere 75 km from Port Elizabeth towards Grahamstown, in the Eastern Cape of South Africa. Shamwari Private Game Reserve is the award-winning pinnacle of private game reserves in Southern Africa, which covers prime natural terrain.

This malaria-free landscape offers magnificent encounters with free-roaming wildlife including the coveted Big 5 and is one of the largest private conservation initiatives in Southern Africa. The variety of 5 star lodges offer signature experiences, as each lodge is designed in harmony with its natural environment.

The Eastern Cape is blessed with natural and cultural diversity. It's especially renowned for the evergreen vegetation of the Tsitsikamma Forest at the end of the Garden Route.

It is also home to the Baviaanskloof Wilderness, the slopes of the Drakensberg Mountains and part of the Great Karoo.

Another Eastern Cape point of interest is its awe-inspiring coastline, making it the ideal place for water sport enthusiasts and beach bodies alike. Surfers can enjoy the super tubes of Jeffrey's Bay and Cape St Francis, where a host of international surfing competitions are held.

In addition, anglers are sure to be kept busy with the multitude of fish to catch in this region.

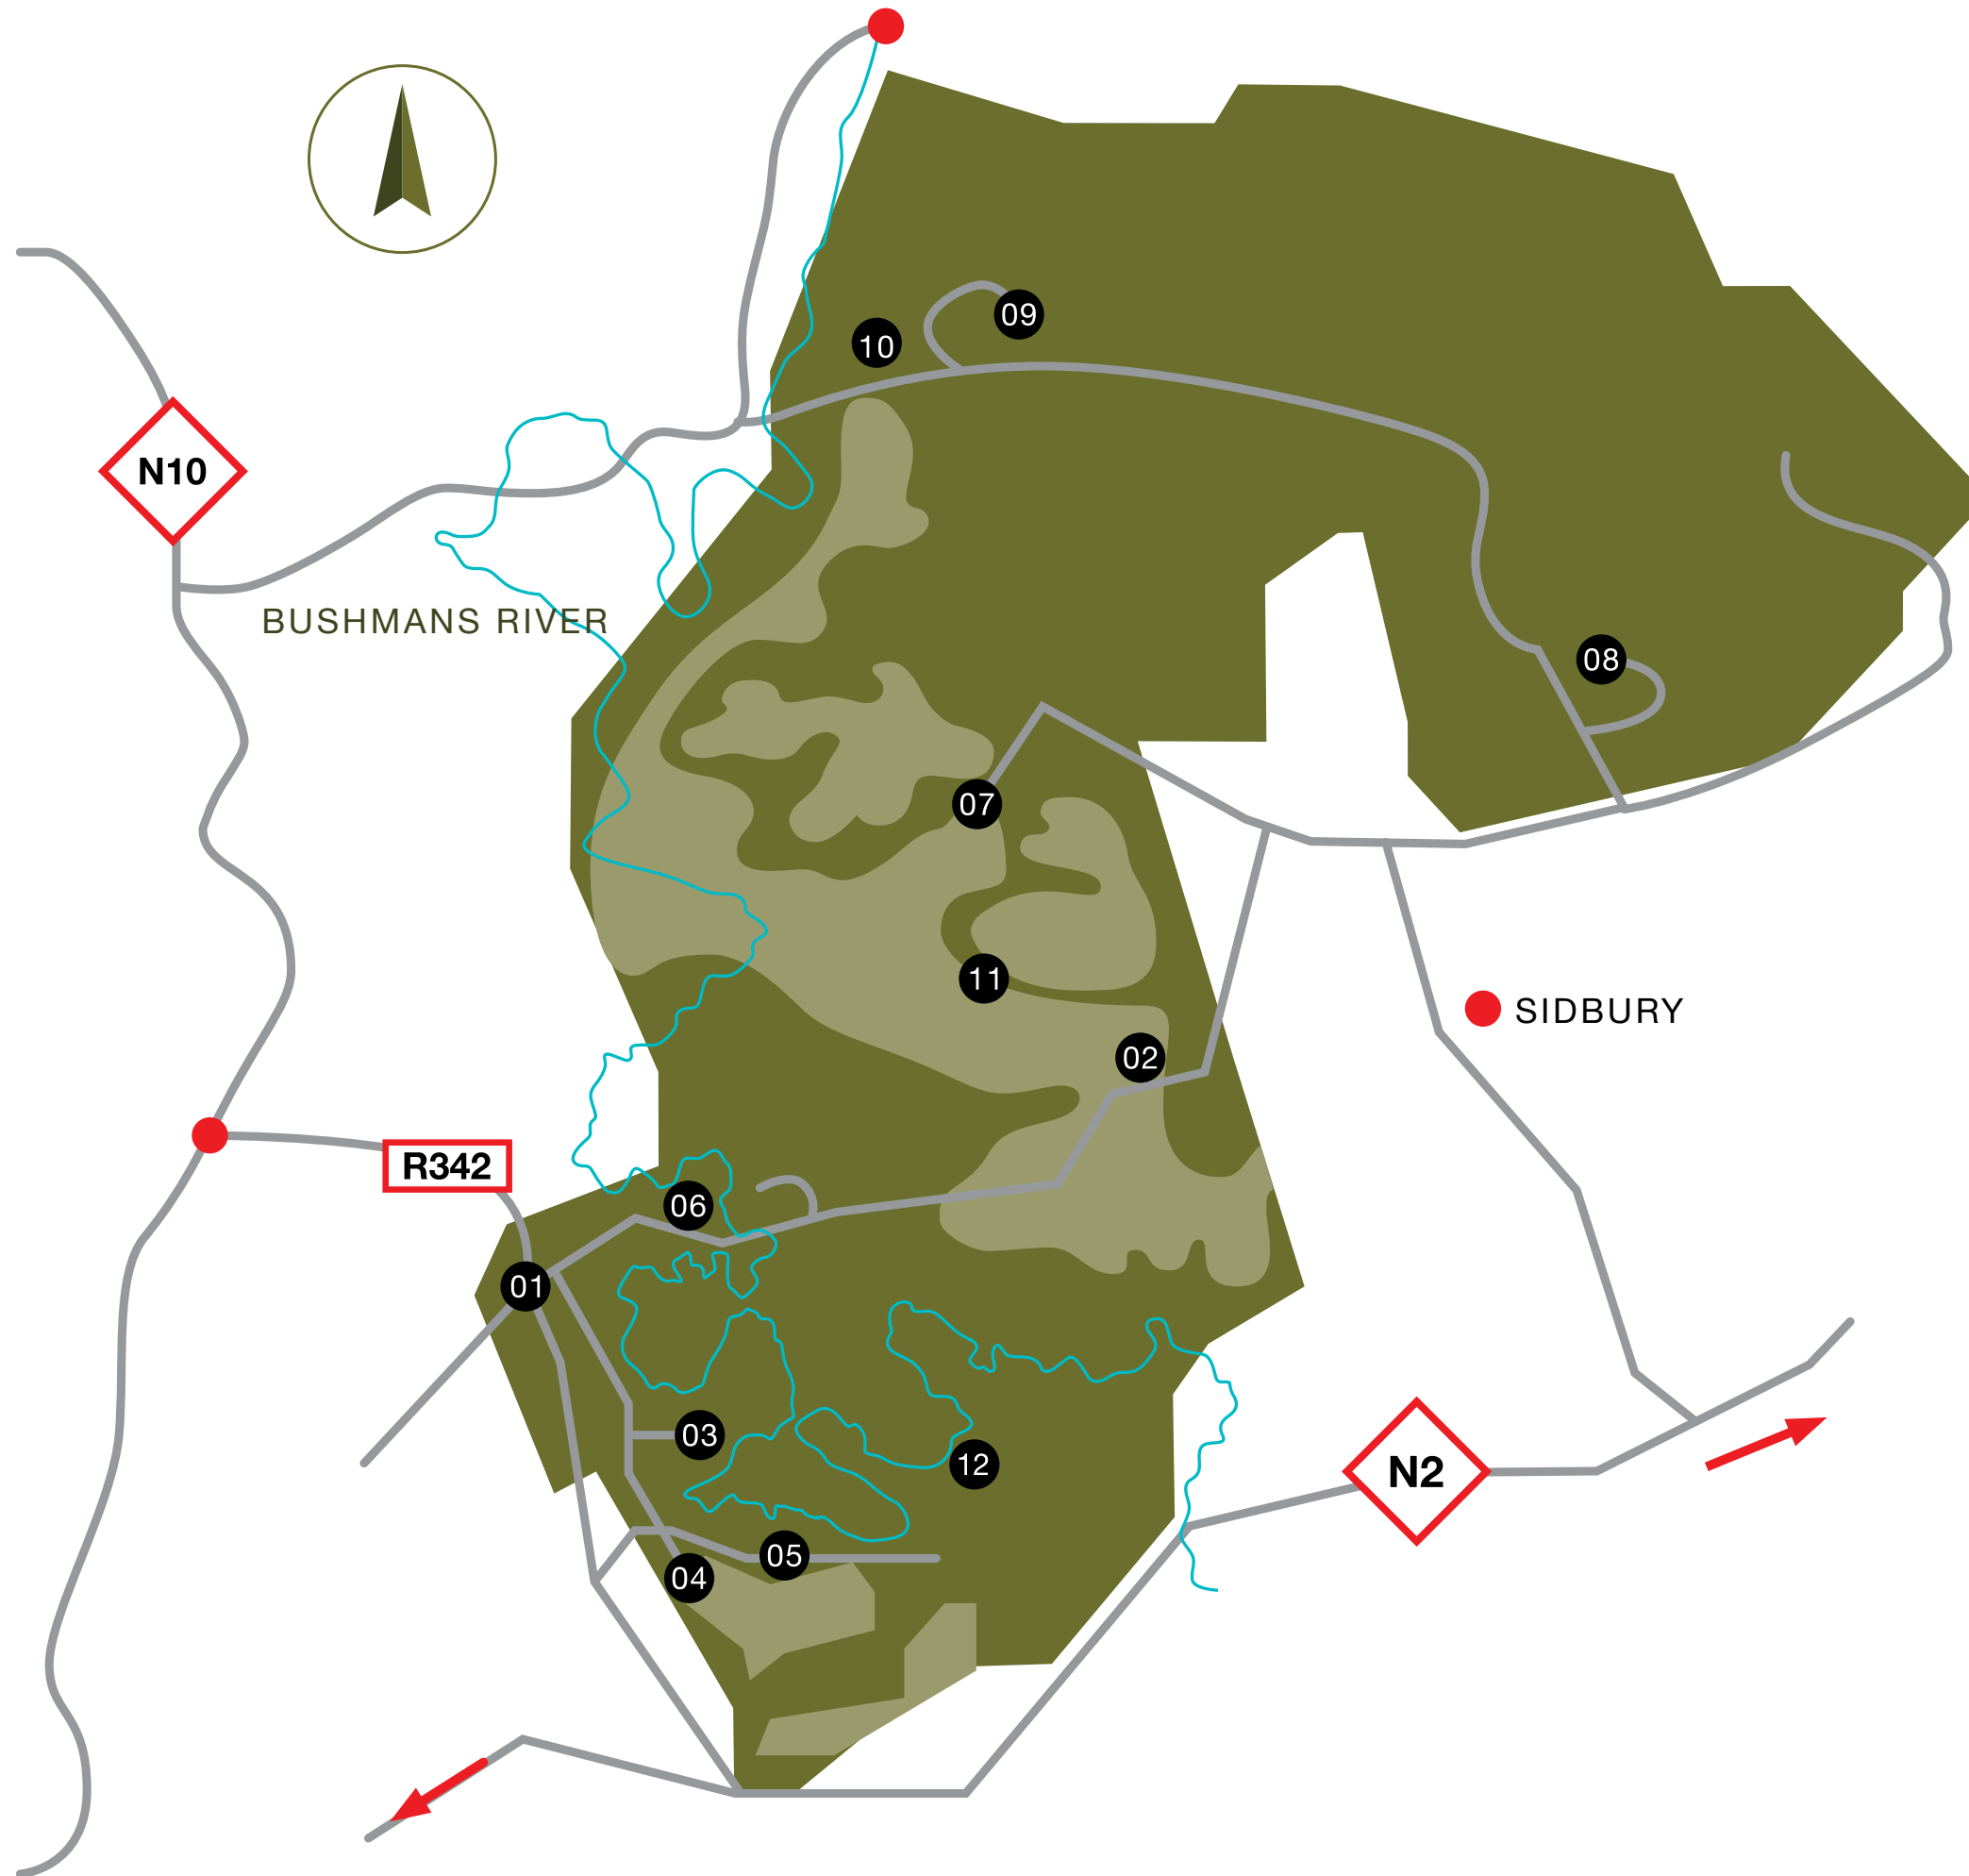

Coastal winds can reach impressive speeds, making for exciting kite surfing conditions, as well as sailing, windsurfing, and other wind sports.

Best of all, there are a myriad of facilities here to ensure that every member of your family has the experience of a lifetime on South African soil. If you are looking for more information on this area of our country, visit the website of the official tourism board.

Birds of The Region

There are an abundance of special birds that we are privileged to see at Shamwari. Specialist guides, who know the habits and habitats of these birds, will do their utmost to get you a sighting of these birds in their natural environment.

At Shamwari Private Game Reserve we're passionate about the conservation of nature and the animals within the reserve.

Our ethos - Responsible Conservation to Ensure Sustainability – Financially, Ecologically as well as Socially.

Our goal is to return all animals back to the wild

The Wildlife Rehabilitation Centre at Shamwari is a registered facility and as such, animals in need come from all over the Eastern Cape and even further afield. The primary goal is to ultimately return all the animals that are in our care back to the wild, or at least give them the best possible opportunity. To achieve this goal requires sensitive management and treatment is required by our vet, vet nurse and the team.

In recent times our team has specialised in raising orphaned rhinos from the poaching epidemic that has become too common an occurrence in Southern Africa. Despite the horrific ordeals these young animals have endured, we have successfully raised and released several into safe environments where they are now helping to grow rhino populations for the future.

All species, big or small, are welcomed and embraced by our dedicated team who work tirelessly, day and night. Their reward is a weak orphan drinking for the first time, growing in strength and finally being returned to its natural environment.

Big Cat Sanctuaries

In partnership with actress, author and wildlife campaigner, Virginia McKenna's Born Free Foundation, Shamwari Private Game Reserve designed the Animal Rescue and Education Centres to incorporate the sanctuary and educational facility

Their goal is to create awareness of the horrific way in which wildlife is exploited in captivity around the world. The centres aim to draw attention to the plight of wild big cats, confined in impoverished, captive environments throughout the world.

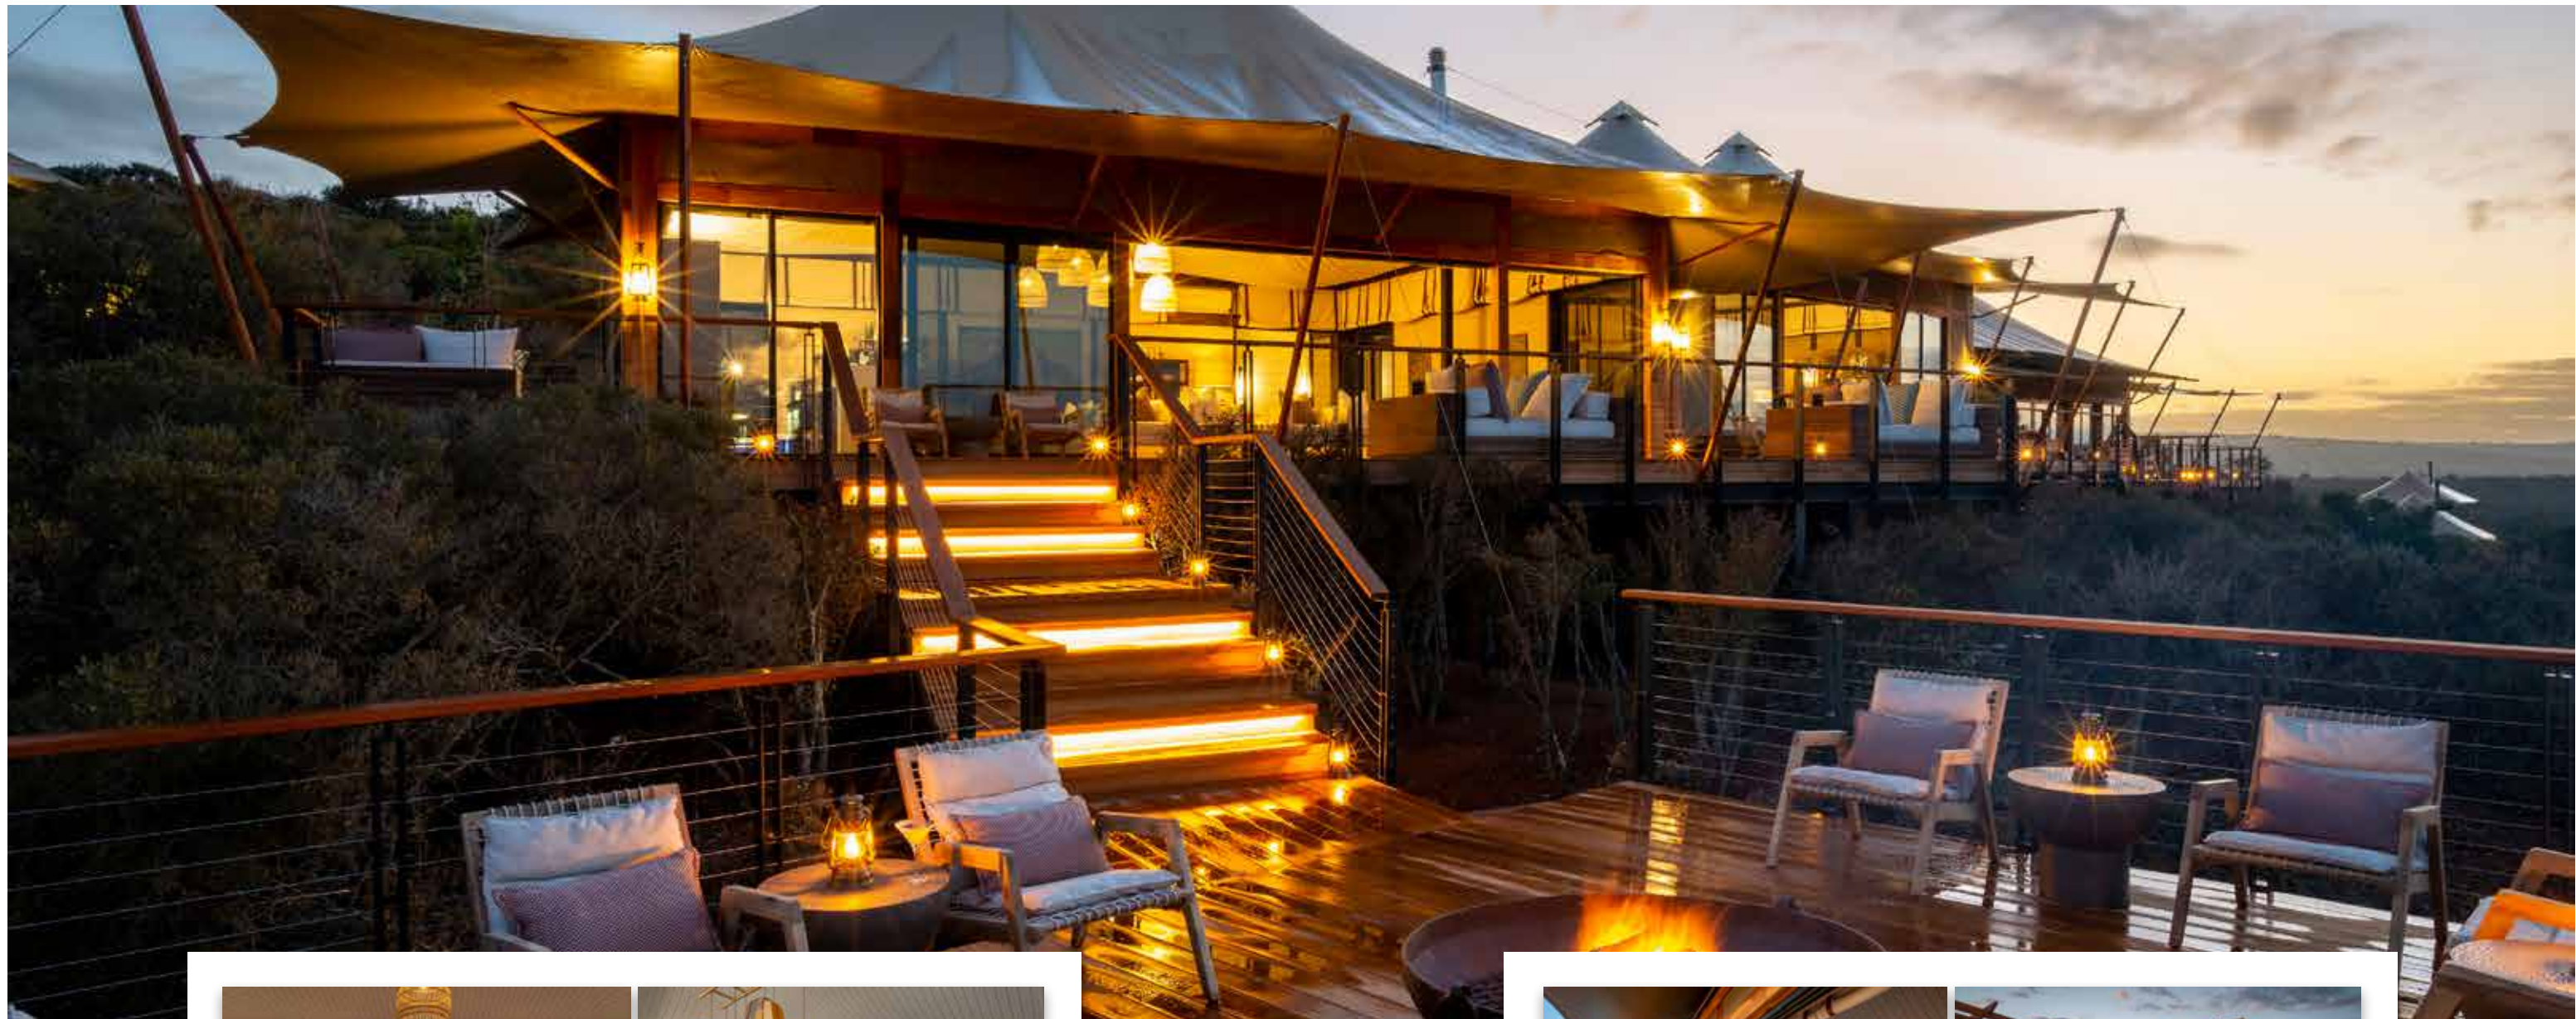

Anti Poaching Unit

Out of a love for our animals and necessity Shamwari has developed an effective anti-poaching unit over the years. The unit follows a pro-active approach through intelligence gathering to prevent any incidents while simultaneously actively protecting the fauna and flora of the reserve through a dedicated and passionate team.
