This add-on option gives you the opportunity to include a private culinary chef to your luxury safari with us. Callie-Anne Gavazzi, known by food-loving viewers worldwide for her safari cooking show "Callie-Anne Cooks - Into The Wild," offers an extra element of culinary sensation to your safari. Callie-Anne or one of her talented chefs will cook with you to create unforgettable memories and a love affair with food in Africa.

Let these professional chefs take you on a food safari adventure, giving you an insight into the culture of African cuisine and experiencing the outdoors from a different perspective. This food safari explores methods of cooking over an open fire in the wild and the traditional yet modern take on cooking outdoors gives you a real sense of what Africa has to offer with all its glorious produce.
