

Family Activities

While Quepos has a well-deserved reputation as a great fishing destination, it also offers plenty of other activities to indulge in as well for the leisure traveler. Trek can arrange an action packed non-fishing day involving activities like zip lining, white water rafting, an ATV ride through the mountains, jungle canopy tours or even a visit to the national park

Manuel Antonio. If it is fishing you are after or just the excitement of the endless activities that surround Quepos, you are guaranteed to raise your adrenaline level.

The Trip To reach Quepos, you need only to book one of the many daily commercial flights into San Jose where you can elect to be driven three hours on paved road, or take a 20 minute commercial or charter flight. Delta, American, Continental, US Airways and United are just a few airlines that fly to San Jose where Trek will be glad to arrange a transfer to Quepos that best fits your needs.

Please contact our travel agency for the best possible rates on your flights to Costa Rica from your hometown.

About Quepos

Puerto Quepos Costa Rica, is located fewer than a 100 miles from the capital city of San Jose and is a perfect destination for those seeking the thrill of big game fishing in calm Pacific waters, combined with a dazzling array of outdoor activities and visits to one of the most beautiful national parks in the Americas. During the season from December to April it is doubtful you'll find a destination offering more diversity and excitement than Quepos and its surrounding properties, not to mention its perfect weather and stunning views.

The Outfitter

Flamingo Bay Pacific Charters is representing Trek once again as our ground agents in Quepos. They bring many years of experience and provide first-class accommodations to our clients while experiencing the some of best fishing opportunities anywhere in the world. Flamingo Bay has an impressive selection of credible charters that will allow you to enjoy high paced fishing action. Trek has had a partnership with Flamingo Bay for almost 30 years providing expert logistics, great fishing and wonderful accommodations. Trek and Flamingo Bay will help meet all of your traveling needs while in Quepos.

The Fishing

Although sailfish are the name of the game here, you will also likely get into marlin, tuna, wahoo, dorado and even some roosterfish during the peak fishing months of December-April. Leaving from the brand new Marina Pez Vela, you will experience the tranquil flat waters of the Central Pacific and arrive at the fishing grounds in no time. Your English speaking crew will provide you with the equipment, knowledge and expertise needed to get you in the fish and back to the docks safe and sound. You will be provided with an authentic Costa Rican lunch along with plenty of refreshments aboard one of the many boats Trek contracts out of Quepos. With the chance to catch a fish of a lifetime, Quepos should be a destination of choice for any family or group travel.

The Accommodations

There are a number of excellent hotels, condos and private homes perched on the hillside between Quepos and Manuel Antonio National Park offering breathtaking views of the Pacific Ocean, Cathedral Point and the monkey filled Tarrazu Highlands. Trek has partnered with several properties in Quepos, all of which will provide a wonderful experience for the fisherman and non-fisherman alike. Along with a variety of accommodations, you will also find many exciting restaurants serving the finest seafood and international dishes in Costa Rica. During the months December to April Quepos comes alive and has an eclectic blend of fun and unique local establishments.
