Luggage Delivery Between Hotels

Travel to your next destination hassle-free

Enjoy traveling to your next destination, even when using crowded public transport, by sending your luggage to your next hotel with Yamato.

This is why we recommend "Hands-Free Travel"

Walk around stations with ease

Enjoy comfortable travel in both crowded stations and trains! You will also be relieved from hauling luggage when going up and down stairs, or wandering through large stations.

Travel safely while holding your children's hands

When both of your hands are busy carrying luggage, it is easy to lose track of your children. This service allows you to travel through crowded stations without worry by freeing your hands so that you can hold your children's hands.

No more lost luggage

A little carelessness could lead to lost or stolen luggage when traveling through stations you are unaccustomed to. "Hands-Free Travel" ensures a comfortable and safe journey.

Leave for Your Next Destination

Send your luggage to the next hotel at the reception desk of the current hotel and go sightseeing.

See the Sights of Kamakura and Yokohama Without Your Luggage

As you do not have to carry heavy luggage with you, you can enjoy the sights, shops and food more comfortably.

Arrive at Your Next Hotel

When you arrive at the next hotel in Yokohama after a day of sightseeing, you will find that your luggage is waiting for you.

Takuhaibin

Takuhaibin (宅配便) is a convenient, moderately priced service for sending parcels, luggage and other types of goods from door to door nationwide. Delivery is usually on the next day.

Yamato Transport started the service in the 1970's and remains the market leader with their Takkyubin service.

Although it is a registered trademark, Takkyubin is commonly used to refer to takuhaibin services in general.

Yamato Transport's main competitors are Sagawa Express and Japan Post.

How to Use Takuhabin

Check with your Hotel front desk.

They can help you arrange or assist with filling out the paperwork and will collect the fees needed and will most likely take care of everything for you.

You can select same-day or next day delivery and even an estimated time slot.

The cost of using takuhaibin depends on the type, size and weight of the package and the destination. Below are some typical prices.

Suitcase (less than 25 kg):

- Within Greater Tokyo area: 2100 yen
- From Tokyo to Osaka/Kyoto: 2200 yen
- From Tokyo to Kyushu: 2500 yen
- From Tokyo to Hokkaido: 2500 yen
- From Tokyo to Okinawa: 4200 yen
- Tokyo to Narita Airport: 2800 yen
- Osaka/Kyoto to Kansai Airport: 2800 yen

How to Use

STEP
1

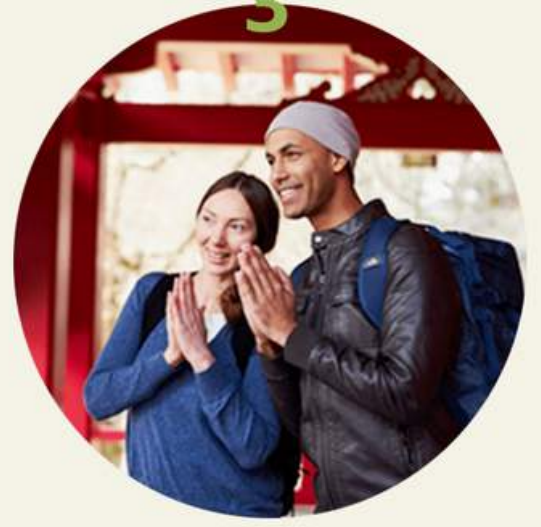

Make a request at a “Hands-Free Travel Service” counter located at the hotel reception.

2

Write the address of the hotel you will be staying on a waybill and pay the shipping fees.

3

The request is accepted. Enjoy traveling around Japan in comfort.

Delivery is usually on the next day, although for short distances same-day deliveries may be possible. On the other hand, sending parcels to distant locations, such as Hokkaido or Okinawa, can take two days. Desired drop-off dates and times can be specified.

If you intend to send luggage to a hotel, consult with the hotel before doing so. Some smaller hotels may not be able to accept deliveries due to lack of storage space.

Alternatively, goods can be dropped off at most of the countless convenience stores found across Japan, luggage counters at airports and major railway stations, a variety of other stores that display a takuhaibin sign and takuhaibin service centers.

Precautions

- 1 Please check the list of counters for the reception deadline of same-day luggage delivery.
- 2 Please sort your luggage in advance to ensure procedures at the counter can be completed smoothly.
