Seasonal information

Whilst all times are good to visit Fregate Island Private, the specific interests of the guests and the activities they may wish to indulge in should determine the time that they are going to visit us.

For Diving and Fishing

The period between October and May is called the Northwest Monsoon in Seychelles.

This season is characterized by the lack of wind. Ideal, calm sea conditions normally prevail, and this favours big game fishing, snorkelling and diving. Underwater visibility is at its best. The Northwest Monsoon is the period of highest humidity and is also the rainy season for this region of the western Indian Ocean. Tropical Monsoon rain usually falls as heavy, short, sharp showers ... after which the sun reappears and the vacation continues. Rains lasting for longer periods are not usually encountered more than a couple of times during the rainy period of the year. Rain can fall in any month between October and May.

FREGATE ISLAND PRIVATE SEYCHELLES

Land activity season

The period between May and October is called the South East Monsoon in Seychelles.

This season is characterized by the steady, daily South East Trade Winds which tend to make for rough sea conditions.

Water sports like sailing and windsurfing are popular activities at this time, but good snorkelling, diving and fishing are less likely due to the rough sea conditions and impaired underwater visibility. Rainfall is minimal during this season, whilst humidity is at its lowest level. During the South East Monsoon the currents are usually very strong and swimming is therefore recommended at the Marina Beach or in one of our swimming pools.

There is almost never a day that Fregate Island's beaches do not constitute one of the major attractions of the island, whilst walking the trails and the unique nature experience are outdoor activities always to be enjoyed during any season.

PADI Courses

The Dive Centre at Fregate Island Marina offers various diving courses and certifications, and all guided dives are conducted from one of our dive vessels. There are numerous beautiful sites, which are exclusive to Fregate Island guests and suit all levels of divers from beginner through to experienced. A PADI instructor will accompany you on each dive. Certified divers are required to show proof of certification before diving.

For those interested in exploring the underwater realm, our instructors offer all PADI dive courses as well as special programs and certifications for children. A complimentary introduction to scuba is available, enabling you to experience the sensation of breathing underwater before you decide to take a course.
