 The rationale behind asking for your personal weight is that overall aircraft weight and balance is key on charter flights – relating to fuel loads, distances flown, passenger load, reserve tank allowances and potential emergency procedures. Safety is paramount to us.

a) Should we not receive an indication of weight prior to travel, then we will need to weigh the passenger on check-in. If more than 100kg (220lbs), we will have to arrange for additional weight allowance on the light aircraft transfers or even private charters, both at additional cost.

b) Note that there are also very strict luggage type, size and weight restrictions for charter flights – please ensure you are familiar with these requirements as you will be asked to re-pack/leave your bags at the airport should the dimensions not comply. Luggage needs to be in the form of soft shell bags with no frame or wheels.

c) Additionally, please be advised that weight restrictions apply to all helicopter transfers and scenic flights – allowances are dependent on itinerary and routing, so this information is required in advance.

If possible, please scan the information page of your passport/s and include them when you return this document. Detailed passport information is required for the booking of scheduled/commercial air. All passport holders should also verify visa entry requirements with their relevant consulate. If you are extending your journey to other countries, please check entry requirements for those countries. Visa applications, costs and relevant documentation are the responsibility of the traveller.

Note that all visitors to Southern Africa require a valid passport, together with onward travel documents and sufficient funds for the duration of their stay. Please ensure you have enough blank VISA (not endorsement) pages in your passport, with at least 3 blank pages (4 or more if travelling through several countries on your journey). If there is insufficient space in the passport then entry into a country could be denied.
